Frequently asked questions

What are some good cheese puns?

Good cheese puns twist a cheese name into a common word. Try "Feta late than never" or "You're a gouda friend." The best ones match the cheese's character: sharp cheddar for a witty friend, soft brie for a sweetheart. Pair a pun with an actual cheese gift and the joke lands twice.

What are some funny nicknames for cheese?

Cheese lovers use nicknames like "the big cheese," "the stinky one," "melty gold" and "the blue box" for boxed mac and cheese. Parmesan is often just "parm," and cheddar sometimes gets called "chedda." These nicknames make fun birthday labels on a cheese board, especially next to small handwritten flags.

What is the cheesiest joke ever?

The cheesiest joke is one that admits it is cheesy. Try "What did the cheese say on its birthday? I'm aging nicely, thank you." Cheesy jokes are corny on purpose, so deliver them with pride. The groan is the point, and cheese lovers usually groan the loudest.

What is a slang word for cheese?

"Cheddar" and "cheese" are both old slang words for money, which is why a cheddar pun works for a birthday card with cash in it. People also say something is "cheesy" when it is corny or over the top. Both meanings make fun birthday wordplay.

What is a fancy name for cheese?

The French word fromage is a popular fancy name for cheese. A person who sells cheese is a cheesemonger, and a cheese expert is sometimes called a fromager. Using these words on a birthday cheese board makes it feel like a fine shop, even if it came from the corner store.

What is a good tagline for cheese?

Short taglines work best: "Aged well, served warm," "Say cheese, it's a birthday" or "Born to brie." A good tagline is under six words and uses a real cheese word. They work on party signs, cake toppers and the label of a homemade cheese gift box.

What is a funny thing to write on a cheese lover's birthday card?

Write a pun about their favourite cheese, then a warm line. For example: "You're aging like a cheddar, bolder every year. Here's to more cheese boards together." If you are giving cheese as a gift, add "It's not a gift, it's an investment." Foodies will also enjoy our kitchen utensil puns.
